

PROJECT 2025

EXPOSED

How Project 2025 will harm food access:

The extreme Republican plan would drastically reduce children and families' access to fresh, healthy, American grown food, threatening the health and security of the country's most vulnerable populations.

- Endangers babies by loosening baby formula regulations and potentially limiting or delaying baby formula availability through the popular WIC program. (pp. 301 – 302)
- Upends the structure and administration of USDA nutrition programs, sowing confusion and chaos for those seeking crucial food benefits. (pp. 298-299)
- Burdens SNAP applicants with proof of employment requirements, cutting millions off from benefits. (p. 299)
- Endangers the reliability of future funding for vital food and farm assistance by decoupling nutrition and agriculture programs in the farm bill, all while restructuring the farm bill process to line the pockets of Big Ag. (pp. 297 - 298)
- Blocks automatic enrollment in nutrition assistance programs for individuals already enrolled in other federal assistance programs, making it harder to get essential food support. (p. 300)
- Unravels updates to the Thrifty Food Plan and decreases available food benefits by reverting to outdated nutrition and dietary guidelines that don't account for inflation. (p. 300)
- Penalizes households receiving heating and cooling assistance by reducing their nutrition benefits. (p. 301)
- Restricts eligibility for the National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program, inhibiting students' ability to learn by reducing access to healthy food at school. (p. 302)
- Curtails the summer meal program that keeps kids fed even when school is not in session. (p. 303)
- Eliminates USDA Dietary Guidelines that provide Americans with science-based information to help them make informed decisions about what they eat. (p. 309)
